

SOCIAL EVENTS

The Lenten season having opened mid-week, social activities have been largely restricted to informal card parties and musical affairs, of which many are planned for the coming "season of penance."

Mrs. Charles L. McNary and Mrs. R. P. Boise, Jr., entertained Friday afternoon for Mrs. E. Breyman, Mrs. William C. Knighton assisting the hostesses. A profusion of cut flowers was used, adding a spring note to the decorations. Dainty refreshments were served, and the guests occupied themselves quite informally with needlework.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Boise, Jr., entertained seven tables of their 500 club Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McNary and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Knighton being guests of the club. The ladies' prize was awarded Miss Winnifred Byrd and the gentleman's prize secured by Max Buren. Dainty refreshments were served, and the unique favors were all suggestive of Washington, the event being near the anniversary of his birthday.

Mrs. B. L. Steeves and Mrs. F. A. Legg were joint hostesses last Friday afternoon when they entertained the Kensington club at the Steeves home. Cut flowers and potted plants were arranged artistically about the rooms. Refreshments were served.

The Auction Bridge club met with Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts Friday evening.

Mrs. E. F. Carlton entertained the "Mystic Four" bridge club Tuesday evening, additional guests making up nine tables. Canary daffodils were used effectively in the decorations. Assisting the hostess in serving dainty refreshments were Mrs. Roy Burton and Mrs. J. H. Van Winkle. Card honors fell to Mrs. J. A. Churchill and Harry Wenderoth.

Mrs. A. L. Brown entertained last evening, asking in her close neighbors in honor of her husband's birthday. Three tables of 500 were played. Mrs. F. X. Hofer assisted the hostess in serving dainty refreshments.

Salem friends of Dr. and Mrs. W. D. McNary and Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Tamias will be interested in the following account of a party given by them at their new home: A brilliant event in Pendleton last week, which was attended by a number of Portland people, was the reception and dancing party given at the Eastern Oregon state hospital by Dr. and Mrs. Wilson D. McNary, Dr. and Mrs. Augustus E. Tamias, Dr. and Mrs. Rufus H. Hagood. About 100 guests were present and the occasion marked the formal advent of the tango and hesitation waltz in Pendleton society. The assembly room was decorated with palms, flowers and illuminated hearts, symbolical of the Valentine season.

Frances Ward, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward entertained ten of her girl friends last Saturday afternoon at a delightful party, honoring her own birthday and that of Washington. The birthday cake was especially beautiful, ornamented with flags, and red cherries. Place cards were miniature hatchets with hand-painted red cherries. Many beautiful gifts were received by the little hostess. Covers were laid for the Misses Gennelle Vandervort, Constance Green, Geneva Endicott, Retta Phillips, Lucile Moore, Mayle Hunter, Margaret White, Florence Elgin, Edith Young, Thelma Cook, Pauline Knowland, Beta Reed, Pauline Johnson and the young hostess.

Mrs. A. L. Honnard, nee Miss Nina Jones, was the guest of honor at a party Wednesday evening at the Graham home on Court street, when the Misses Margaret and Stella Graham entertained informally. Twenty-eight young women were asked. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hoven were pleasantly surprised last Saturday evening by the unexpected appearance of a number of friends who made merry at games until a late hour. Refreshments were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hoven, Mrs. Eunice Smith, Misses Maggie Bartruff, Gussie Wulf, Mary Dunigan, Cecile Kunths, Lavilla Perry, Ruby Hill, Hulda Hoven, Ethel Smith, Myrtle Ireland and Grandma Hoven; Messrs. Ralph Stephens, Oscar Hoven, Charles Knuths, Jobe Turner, Howard Bliven, Frank Smith, Maurice Dunigan, Fred McCall, Fred Ireland, James Knuths, Dan Bartruff, Edward Scharf and Carl Brand.

M. C. Pettys and J. F. Dunlap enjoyed a birthday dinner at the home of Mr. Pettys in Polk county, Monday evening, February 16. Both having been born the same day and year, Mr. Pettys at Baraboo, Wis., and Mr. Dunlap at Philadelphia, Pa. A chicken pie dinner was served and a birthday cake with decorations of candles. Mr. Dunlap received a post card shower from his mother and sister in Connecticut, with a card for every year.

A pleasure seldom realized by many of the cosmopolitan west was enjoyed by Mrs. Alice McLench Caldwell, at her home, 400 N. Commercial street, Tuesday, February 24, when a party of her old friends dropped in to bid her bon voyage on another year of life. Twenty-four, most of them old residents of Spring Valley, had been notified and, although the rain fell in torrents, a goodly number assembled, and the surprise, which had been planned by Mrs. Lizzie McLench Watson, for her sister's 55th anniversary, was a great success. Of the invited guests 20 were native Oregonians of whom 9 were territorialians.

Mrs. Wait and Mrs. Mary Purvine were requested to tell of crossing the plains and of Spring Valley 60 years ago. Mrs. Pruitt and Mrs. Smith told of the flood and the hard winter of '62 and '63, when Salem's business streets were traversed by steamboats and later, snow covered the ground for six weeks. After the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and other songs, Mrs. Abrams called the roll of the Spring Valley school, when she taught there in '71, then a dignified young lady of but 15 years, and Mrs. Watson followed with the roll of '81, thus bringing to mind many known in years gone by. A delightful feature of the afternoon was the presentation to Mrs. Caldwell, by her sister, of a beautiful gold pin which had been made from the frames of their mother's spectacles and which had been worn by her for 60 years. Mrs. Libby assisted in the serving of a delicious luncheon, after which all joined in singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and with good wishes for one another, the guests departed, wishing such gatherings might be more frequent. Those invited were: Mrs. James Rebecca Bowen Wait, Ellen Ranney, Miss Georgia White and Miss Wait Southwick, Mary Walker Purvine, Nancy Walker, Henry, Emma Alderman and Mrs. A. G. B. Bouquet received. Mr. and Mrs. Swarthout left immediately via Albany for Portland on a brief wedding trip. Later they will return to Salem, where they will be at home to friends. The bride is an accomplished and talented young woman, a graduate of the O. A. C. school of music, and has a wide circle of friends who join in wishing her every happiness. Her husband is an O. A. C. graduate, a former popular student, now registrar at Willamette University at Salem. Both bride and groom are worthy young people, very highly esteemed, and friends extend congratulations and sincere wishes for a wedded life of prosperity and happiness.

A very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mrs. Mary Goughnour, 1330 D street, Wednesday, February 11, at 6 o'clock, when her daughter, Jessie, became the bride of Mrs. Earl E. Chapel. The ring ceremony was used; after the ceremony a wedding dinner was served. Rev. H. E. Dorks of the United Brethren church officiated and only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present. Mr. and Mrs. Chapel will be at home at 385 Bellevue to their friends after March 1.

The following announcement appearing in the Gazette-Times of Corvallis, will be of interest to the Salem friends of the young people:

Predominant among the society functions of the week, one of the most elaborate and beautiful of the early spring weddings, was that solemnized at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, February 18, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Gertrude McBee was united in marriage to Arthur Vane Swarthout of Salem. Decorations at the church were simple, but very beautiful, ferns and Oregon grape, enlivened by the use of pink tulle, presenting a charming effect. Lattice work interwoven with ferns and brightened by two large pedestal lights, formed a bower where the wedding party gathered for the service. With Mrs. William Frederic Gaskins at the organ, Miss Maude Turley sang "Because," to the delight of the guests, and as the notes of the song died away, Mrs. Gaskins played Lohengrin's wedding march and the bridal party entered. Misses Gladys Roby and Tressa Nichols in dainty pink and yellow costumes, with large picture hats and shower bouquets of rose pink carnations, entered first, followed by Mrs. C. V. Swann as matron of honor. The bride, accompanied by her father, W. H. McBee, who gave her into the keeping of the groom, followed closely and was a vision of loveliness in her costume of white chamoisee, elaborated with lace and pearl trimmings. Her long veil, which fell in graceful folds, was attached to her hair with sprays of orange blossoms and was becomingly fashioned into mob-cap. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Swann wore an elaborate costume of pink broadcloth, enhanced by a large picture hat, and carried rose pink carnations. Awaiting at the altar were the groom and H. M. Roberts, his best man, and as the party assembled the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony was performed by Dr. J. N. R. Bell. The ushers were Tom Stevens, of Albany, and Nash Taylor. A large reception was held immediately at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. and Mrs. W. H. McBee, and was attended by one hundred or more invited guests. The home was attractively adorned with pink tulle, ferns, Oregon grape luncheon, after which all joined in singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and with good wishes for one another, the guests departed, wishing such gatherings might be more frequent. Those invited were: Mrs. James Rebecca Bowen Wait, Ellen Ranney, Miss Georgia White and Miss Wait Southwick, Mary Walker Purvine, Nancy Walker, Henry, Emma Alderman

A colonial party was given Friday evening by the American Yeoman lodge. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour when refreshments were served. The unique favors were small hatchets upon which were painted a cluster of cherries, the design not only being an appropriate one for the Cherry city at all times but emphasizing the memorable tree-chopping act attributed to Washington.

Mrs. Carl O. Engstrom entertained the East Central circle of the First Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday afternoon at one of the largest meetings of the year. After a very short business session, an interesting program was rendered. Mrs. U. S. Dorton, Miss Lena Dorton, Miss Davis, Miss Frances Penn and Mrs. R. W. Simmer were heard in vocal and instrumental solos and readings. The house was prettily decorated with scarlet and yellow tulips in the dining room and greenery in the living rooms. Dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. F. L. Frazier was a recent hostess to the Elite Embroidery club at her home on North Summer street, the hostess being assisted in serving by her daughter Genevieve, and sister-in-law, Miss Frazier. The club members attending were: Mrs. J. A. Bernardi, Mrs. May Rogers, Mrs. Nellie Knox, Mrs. Ray Clark, Mrs. O. G. Schellberg, Mrs. Claud Lucas, Mrs. N. S. Stewart, Mrs. A. M. Clough, Mrs. D. H. Weyant, Mrs. C. G. Given, Mrs. H. St. Helen, while the visitors were Mrs. R. L. Bryant of Portland, Mrs. W. W. Hill and Miss Mildred Baxter of Spray, Oregon.

Mrs. G. C. Given entertained the Elite Embroidery club Thursday afternoon at her home, 1564 North Commercial street. Refreshments were served and the ladies occupied themselves with needlework.

Mrs. Fred S. Bynon entertained the Needlecraft club at her home Wednesday afternoon. A dainty luncheon was served and the time spent pleasantly at needlework.

CLUBS

The Poirean class of the First Methodist Episcopal church gave a banquet in the parlors of the church Friday evening, February 13. The guests were seated at one long table artistically decorated with urns of brilliant red carnations and greenery. Hearts and cupid predominated in the lesser table appointments, suggestive of the spirit of St. Valentine. Place cards contained very cleverly written rhymes, which occasioned a great deal of merriment. Scarlet candles and shades completed the color scheme. During the course a number of clever and interesting toasts were given, as follows: "Class History," J. E. Allison, teacher; "When I Was a New Member," Eleanor Colony; "Old Maids," Lou Jane Hatch; "The Peirceans," Miss Lulu Walton; "Class Prophecy," Grace E. Smith. A boy of pretty girls from the domestic science department of the high school, under the instruction of Miss Bertha Edwards, served. Everybody Admires a Beautiful Complexion.

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S

Oriental Cream

OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

An Indispensable and Delightful Toilet Requisite for Fashionable Women.

A daily necessity for the ladies' toilet whether at home or while traveling. It protects the skin from injurious effects of the elements, gives a wonderfully effective beauty to the complexion. It is a perfect non-greasy Toilet Cream and positively will not cause or encourage the growth of hair which all ladies should guard against when selecting a toilet preparation. When dancing, bowling or other exertions heat the skin, it prevents a greasy appearance.

Gouraud's Oriental Cream has been highly recommended by physicians, actresses, singers and women of fashion for over half a century and cannot be surpassed when preparing for daily or evening attire.

Gouraud's Oriental Cream cures Sun Patches, Rash, Freckles and Vulgar Redness, Yellow and Muddy Skin, giving a delicately clear and refined complexion which every woman desires.
